HENRY BARTON DIED TUESDAY

Funeral Services Will Be Held Saturday From Folsom Mortuary Chapel

Henry Barton, 80, a veteran Odd Fellow and a past noble grand of Cosumnes Lodge No. 63, I. O. O. F., at Latrobe, died Tuesday at the home of a brother, George Barton, near Wheatland, where he had made his home for almost a year past.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday at 11 o'clock in the morning from the Miller Mortuary Chapel at Folsom and will be under auspices of Cosumnes Lodge of Odd Fellows. Interment will be at Folsom.

Friends report that Mr. Barton was a native of El Dorado County. He had done practically no work since 1928 when he retired from the employ of the Cello family, in Lake Tahoe, completing a tenure of service begun sixteen years earlier.

Mr. Barton was a teamster by trade. He was employed by the Blair interests and by other county lumbermen as a teamster and for a number of years hauled freight over the Pioneer Trail unit of the Lincoln highway between Placerville and Lake Valley and Carson City while in the employ of "Hank" Martin, a well known rancher and lumbering contractor of earlier days in Carson Valley and at Lake Valley.

It was as a teamster that Mr. Barton went to work for the Cello family at Lake Valley in 1912 and he served them continuously until, in 1928, the horses were displaced by motorized equipment. Then he retired.

Mr. Barton held many friends throughout the county by whom he was beloved, admired and respected.

He is survived by four brothers, John, of Latrobe, W. D. Barton and Lester Barton, of White Rock, and George Barton, of Wheatland, and by several nephews and nieces.

Freight Service Expansion Told

Motor Transportation Company Announces Route To Lake Tahoe

El Dorado Motor Transportation Company, operating from Sacramento to Placerville and many other central California communities, with connections to San Francisco and Los Angeles and intermediate points, has instituted a one-a-week service to Lake Tahoe via Placerville, according to an announcement this week by W. W. Berreman, general manager, at Sacramento.

Deliveries intended for that service should reach Sacramento not later than five o'clock of a Friday evening, the announcement says.

"Just as fast as additional service is required, we will increase the frequency until it has reached a daily basis," said Mr. Berreman.

"During the winter months we have purchased additional equipment so that daily service can be offered throughout the entire summer to all Lake Tahoe points as well as to intermediate points. Trucks will continue to leave Sacramento at night and will make daily deliveries as far as Lake Tahoe not later than ten o'clock each morning."

The new service should prove a great convenience to Lake Valley residents as well as to resort and summer homes people in the American River canyon, and to residents of Pollock Pines, Camino, Smith Flat and their vicinities.

ALHAMBRA OPERATORS TO EXPLORE LOWER LEVELS

KELSEY—Work is progressing in the lower levels of the Alhambra-Shumway Mine, which gained nationwide fame last September following a reported $1,000,000 discovery of rich ore.

Mine officials report they have not determined to what depth they will sink the shaft. A 225 foot level will be reached by the main shaft, with a winze from that level to a 325 level. Thirty men are employed. The mill is operating three shifts and the underground crew two shifts.

A new steel headframe is being erected. It will be fifty feet high. A steel drum hoist capable of handling about 900 feet of cable will be installed.

The ore is crushed by a twenty five ton ball mill. Officials report they are not planning to employ more men despite the installation of new equipment and sinking operations.

Banquet Seats Are Limited

Mothers And Daughters Dinner To Be Held In New School Cafeteria

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet given by the Girls' League of the high school will be held on April 12, at 6:30 o'clock at the high school.

Mothers and daughters will be met at the door by a hostess who, the school reports, will do her utmost to make the guests welcome. The hostesses will be the following girls: Mary Jean Newman, Mildred Morris, Betsy Anderson, Colleen Clayton, Nona Green, Mary Edna Henderson, Doris Toombs and Maxine Miller.

The banquet will be held in the school's new cafeteria. As the seating capacity is limited, there can be only 235 tickets sold.

The committee wishes to make it clear that girls may borrow a "mother" and mothers may borrow a "daughter" who does not necessarily need to be of high school age. A ticket seller's meeting was held Monday and tickets are now on sale.

B. J. Jones, of the University Agricultural Extension Service, was in the county Wednesday to join Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley in a visit to the Clarksville section, conferring with Stockmen on range problems.

CCC TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

Snowline, Mosquito Camps To Unite For Fete On Friday

Plans for a big "open house" marking the seventh anniversary of the CCC have been rounded into shape by Company Commanders James D. Andrews and Winston L. Field of Camps Snowline and Mosquito and Project Superintendents Sam Speers and G. D. Thorne of Companies 3561 and 996.

The "birthday party" is slated for Friday, April 5th at Camp Snowline beginning at 1 p. m. Highlights of the day's festivities are a tour of the camp from 1 to 3 o'clock; a top-notch softball contest between the enrollees of the two camps at 3; free lunch for all visitors at 4:30; boxing matches between the Ohio and Kentucky men of Company 3561 and the California lads of Company 996 at 7; and a free dance for the guests and members of both outfits in the Snowline Mess Hall at 8:30, for which a 10-piece Sacramento orchestra will furnish syncopating melodies.

Civic leaders, parents, former CCC members and the general public are cordially invited to attend any and all of the elaborate anniversary activities, according to Company Commanders Andrews and Field, co-chairmen.

Camp Roosevelt, in Virginia, was the first CCC camp to be established in the United States. Its birthday was April 17, 1933. Since the location of this camp nearly 3,000,000 young Americans have received educational employment in the Civilian Conservation Corps throughout the nation and have done an outstanding piece of conservation work.

CONGRESS TOLD ARMY'S NEED FOR SUPPLIES BY GEN. MARSHALL

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Gen. Geo. C. Marshall, chief of staff, warned congress today that "if Europe blazes in the late spring or summer, we must put our house in order before the sparks reach the western hemisphere."

The time has come, Marshall told a house appropriations sub-committee handling the war department's supply bill for 1941, to "face the facts . . . of the existing crisis abroad."

Marshall said that the army's "immediate objective" is complete equipment of the 227,000 regulars and the 235,000 national guardsmen. The army was boosted 17,000 men and the national guard increased 45,000 as part of the limited national emergency declared by President Roosevelt last September. The 1941 budget is $39,000,000 short of providing critical items for this initial protective force, he said.

The army's "great objective" — even more important than more soldiers—Marshall said, is the ultimate procurement of $240,000,000 worth of ammunition, rifles, artillery, tanks and other equipment for the "protective mobilization plan" force of about 1,000,000 men which could be put in the field within four months after outbreak of war.

District Attorney At Annual Convention

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon, With Mrs. Lyon and their younger daughter, Evelyn, left Wednesday morning for Furnace Creek Inn, in Death Valley, where Mr. Lyon will attend the annual convention of the district attorneys' association of California this weekend. In Mr. Lyon's absence, Robert E. Roberts, deputy district attorney, is on duty at the office in the courthouse.

Wilbert Oakes was taken into custody by the sheriff's office on Tuesday and returned to Sacramento by officers from that county to face charges of failure to provide.

President Roosevelt, running almost three to one ahead of Vice-President John N. Garner, appeared assured of 21 of the 24 Democratic delegates.

In a municipal election held at the same time, Milwaukee's socialist mayor for 24 years, Daniel Webster Hoan, was defeated for reelection by Carl F. Zeidler, independent whose platform was "Milwaukee needs a change."

NEW YORK—Dewey appeared to be assured of at least 77 of the state's 92 Republican convention delegates. Frank E. Gannett, Rochester publisher, won at least two delegates in his home city and several in central New York.

In the only districts where the New Deal was a clear cut issue in the Democratic primary, administration delegates won easily over candidates pledged to Vice President Garner.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — John B. Gage, fusion candidate for mayor, won over Flavel Robertson, "regular" Democrat supported by remnants of the political machine whose leader, Tom Pendergast, is serving a federal prison sentence.

Stockmen Meet On Saturday

Exceptional Program For Two-County Livestock Association

An exceptionally interesting program is promised for the annual meeting of the Amador-El Dorado Livestock Association, a branch of the California Cattlemen's Association, which will be held in Placerville at the Shakespeare clubhouse.

According to Mrs. B. C. Celio, secretary, a distinguished group of men of the livestock industry has accepted invitations to be present and some others who have been invited have tentatively accepted.

Heading the list of assured speakers is Ted Chamberlain, of Los Olivos, president of the California Cattlemen's Association. Others who have definitely accepted invitations to be present include John Curry, the state association secretary; Herb Russell, of Los Angeles, past president of the American National Livestock Association; K. G. McKay, of the University Extension Service, who will discuss Bang's disease; W. P. King, secretary of the California Woolgrowers' Association; and Clyde Harris, chief of the Bureau of Livestock Identification of the state department of agriculture.

In addition, there is still hope that Ralph H. Taylor, executive of the Agricultural Council of California; R. R. Lockhart, vice-president of Bankamerica Agricultural Credit Corporation, and Harold R. Guilbert, associate animal husbandman at the Branch College of Agriculture at Davis, may be present to address the meeting.

STOCKTON HOLDS TRIO FOR SUSPECTED BURGLARY OF COUNTY MINE

The sheriff's office at Stockton on Wednesday morning reported the arrest of Walter King, 35, Chester Alstice, 35, and Herman Bangert, 41, all of San Joaquin county, and said they had confessed the theft of about 360 pounds of lead from a mine in El Dorado county near Rattlesnake Park.

The men had been arrested as they sold the loot.

The El Dorado County sheriff's office, to whom the arrest was reported, asked that the men be held for return and instituted a check-up to determine the identity of the mine robbed. No report of such a burglary had been made to the sheriff's office and it was suggested that perhaps the mine has not yet missed the lead.

Frank McCallin, ranger on the Georgetown district of Eldorado Forest, will be a speaker at Friday night's meeting of the North Side Farm Center, at Pilot Hill.

from "The Great Victor Herbert," a rousing romance of the show world, which is being shown on the Empire screen tonight and Thursday.

"VICTOR HERBERT" TO BE SHOWN TWO DAYS AT EMPIRE

A cast headed by such celebrities as Allan Jones, Mary Martin and Walter Conolly, twenty-eight of the unforgettable melodies written by Victor Herbert and a rousing romance of the show world of the early 1900's is on the bill of fare at the Empire Theatre. Wednesday and Thursday as Paramount presents its new musical drama, "The Great Victor Herbert."

The story of "The Great Victor Herbert" represents Producer-Director Andrew Stone's solution of one of the knottiest production problems of the year: how to build a drama around Victor Herbert, a man whose life was singularly lacking in incident and excitement vital to a good film plot?

Stone's solution has resulted in a story which advance scouts herald as one of the most dramatic and moving of the season. Not so much a biography of Victor Herbert as a drama of the composer's influence over the glamorous show world of his day, the film tells of the romance of a stage-struck girl and the matinee idol of the day, who meet in Herbert's gay world, and fame in starring in his operettas and happiness in their friendship with the great man.

STOCK SHEEP AND LAMBS DECLINE IN NUMBER DURING YEAR

SACRAMENTO—The number of stock sheep and lambs in California decreased 2 per cent in 1939, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service at the State Department of Agriculture.

The number of breeding ewes January 1, was slightly greater, but there was a substantial reduction in the number of ewe lambs retained for breeding. Sheep and lambs on feed totalled 124,000 head and were nearly the same as in the previous January. The 1939 lamb crop was the largest of record for California, totalling 2,543,000 head, and was 6 per cent greater than the large 1938 crop. An excellent lamb crop was obtained in all districts of the state.

Weather conditions were unusually favorable at lambing time, allowing a high percentage of survivals. Marketing of sheep and lambs were heavy during 1939, with total out-of-state shipments exceeding those of any previous year of record.

T. G. Schmeiser, Fresno, has developed a machine that will smooth and pack thirty-five acres of soil in a day.

A crew of state highway men were stationed in Coloma opposite the DeLory place Saturday night and Sunday during the high water. We agree with the Folsom old-timers that this younger generation "ain't seen nothin' yet," when it comes to real rain and a big river. But at that we had plenty.

Father Slays Girl In Row Over "Dates"

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UP)—Theodore Speropolos, operator of a Phoenix lunch counter, shot and killed his 17 year old daughter Frances early today in what police described as the climax to a family dispute whether the girl and her two sisters were to have "dates" with boys. The shooting occurred shortly after midnight as seven members of the Speropolos family stood in front of their home upon their return from a downtown moving picture theater.

Household Hint

When you wish to make a favorite cake, biscuit or hot bread and the recipe calls for sour milk and you have none, try using a lemon. Put one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice in standard measuring cup, fill to one-cup mark with fresh, sweet milk or evaporated milk and diluted one-half with water, and let stand until milk is sour, then use.

"Forty years ago," says A. H. DeFriest, vice president of General Petroleum's Mobilgas-Mobiloil staff, "J. H. Ozmun's rope-drive car (above) was traveling the highways; the young blades dressed in swallow tails, with high, stiff collars; and the Flora Dora girls packed the town opera house. Do you remember? Incidentally, Ozmun's car is still running." The pictures are part of a series of familiar scenes received from the oil executive to arouse memories of the "good old days."

Stewart Says—

Congress Cool to South American Trade Increase Plan

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

FARM SECRETARY HENRY A. WALLACE's plan for an increase in trade between the United States and the Latin Americas seems likely to be up against a dead end at this session of congress because the lawmakers are too economy-minded at present to finance it.

They're a peculiar bunch on Capitol Hill. They groan, to be sure, about the billions of dollars they're called upon to appropriate for other purposes. Nevertheless, they go ahead and do the appropriating. All Wallace needs, for his scheme, is a mere handful of a very few hundreds of thousands. But the legislators can't stand that much. Of course the explanation's obvious. When the solons appropriate a billion, they do it under pressure from the voters. When something in six figures is asked for, nobody's at hand to insist on it. True, it isn't worth saving, but it isn't worth appropriating, either—not from the political standpoint, anyway.

Secretary Wallace's thesis is that Latin America wants a lot of stuff that we're champions at producing. That's true. Latin America manufactures next to nothing. It naturally is a raw material realm. It can process some meat, and that's about all.

Well, there's a market for an infinity of our industrial workers' output—a continent, plus Mexico, an isthmus and assorted islands.

And what have they got to give us in return?

Oh, coffee, tea (known in South America as mate), cocoa-beans, quinine, bananas, all sorts of tropical junk.

And rubber?

It's been advertised as coming almost exclusively, except as to old overshoes, from the Dutch East Indies. Why, there's enough rubber up in the Amazon to supply the world. And, while we stay on good terms with Brazil, we've got a monopoly on it.

Also tin, in Bolivia! And Chilean nitrates!

Secretary Wallace aims at a swapping back and forth of our surpluses with Latin Americas'. Not a straight swapping! As soon as international trade dickering is involved, money-changing complicates itself with the situation.

Remember When?

The Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—A fellow forgets to bolt and bar his door and the next thing you know a red headed prizefighter with a glare in his eye and a grievance in his voice is knocking out Joe Louis over by the wastepaper basket.

Red Burman was my uninvited visitor. He came in without a knock but before I could get him out he had put the knock on Jack Dempsey, who owns part of his contract; on Max Waxman, who manages him; Promoter Mike Jacobs; Heavyweight Champion Louis, and such assorted innocents as Arturo Godoy, Bob Pastor, Billy Conn, Tommy Farr and Johnny Paycheck.

The verbal fight Burman waged with Louis, and which saw him lift the title in two rounds, was one of the fiercest encounters of all time. With Louis not present and so unable to come to his own defense, Burman all but killed him. At the bell Burman came out from his corner by the watercooler, came to grips with the champion near the reading lamp, and drove him against the encyclopedia stand with a rain of rights and lefts. The end of the first round found Louis on his hands and knees near the typewriter and all but done for.

Burman was too fresh to even sit down during the minute of rest, and came bounding out for the second round, ready for the kill. A sweeping right hand knocked out (1) a Webster's dictionary (2) an authentic Woolworth copy of a Ming vase (3) a pair of bookends, and (4) Louis.

"There," Burman cried as he struck a pose for imaginary photographers, "There is what I can do to Louis whenever they let me have a shot at him. Only I don't think there'd be any second round. He's a sucker for my kind of fighting."

"You mean this kind of fighting—up in an office building at noon, with Louis in Detroit?" I ventured to ask from the working press seat on the window sill I had taken when the fight started.

"Naw," the redhead said, "right in a ring, with just me and him going at it. But they won't give me a chance. They bring in a bum like Paycheck and he is so scared he can't even hold his hands up. And they talk about letting Con fight for the title, when everybody knows he couldn't hurt his sister with a stick, and is so skinny Louis would bust him apart with one punch."

It must be a tranquil domestic scene indeed when Burman, Dempsey and Waxman get together to talk business. Burman has no use for either one of them.

"That Dempsey could do me a lot of good if he wanted to, but try to get a hold of him. He's too busy with that night club and restaurant of his to bother with me. The time he gets through making up what they gonna serve for dinner and shaking hands and signing autographs and flying all over hell to referee fights and wrestling matches it's winter again."

What about Manager Waxman? Doesn't he have the best interests of his fighter at heart and bound from bed with the sun to further his cause?

"Yeah, Waxman bounds all right, but he bounds at a racing form to get his parlays lined up. He's horse crazy. Maybe if I was a three year old mudder he'd pay me more mind. It ain't helping any to have Dempsey and Mike Jacobs sore at one another. Not when Mike runs boxing the way he does."

Burman gave me a rather full description of his life but I will omit his early youth and schooling, and his summer vacations with various aunts and uncles, and simply tell you that he is the only man ever to knock out Buddy Knox, who he says is much tougher than Fort Knox; he beat Eddie Blunt who gave Galento a tremendous struggle; that he has beaten Steve Dudas, a conquerer of Bob Pastor, and he holds a decision over one Edouardo Primo, a select Argentine beef who once licked Godoy. Also, he has beaten Farr.

So, you see what a fellow gets from leaving his door unlocked.
